HARVESTER 1986

Cato-Meridian Central School

Cato, New York

13033

Dedication . . .

It is with great pleasure that we can finally dedicate a yearbook to Mr. Familo. Because he has been the yearbook advisor since we've been at the high school, it wouldn't have looked right dedicating the Harvester to him. However, we recognize and appreciate the work that Mr. Familo has done for us over the years. We saw his involvement in the French Club, the Quebec Trip, the Harvester, carnivals and various fund raisers, all above and beyond his regular class load and we admire and thank him for his efforts on our behalf. Mr. Familo, the students of Cato-Meridian High School want to dedicate the 1986 Harvester to you. Thank you for caring so much.

"Are those candy bars your secret to staying so full of energy Mr. Familo?"

Mr. Familo shows his concern for us in so many ways. Explaining how our parents can help us learn is just one of those ways.

Dedicated In Memory of Albert R. Van Heesch

On August 28, 1985, we lost a much respected, loved and admired friend. Mr. Van Heesch was our high school principal for nine years. We remember his smile and laughter as well as his fairness and toughness in dealing with us when we created problems. When he left our school two years ago, we were disappointed; when he left this life last August, we were deeply saddened. Mr. Van Heesch made this world a better place in which to live and we will never forget him.

Remembering the Year

Our Friends

Our Feelings

Our Fun

School is more than just books and studying. It is also making friends, building relationships and maturing as a social being. A yearbook should aid that growth by helping you remember it all.

The 1986 Harvester staff hopes that this yearbook will be a help to you in the years to come. We trust that each time you look through these pages you will remember your successes, your friends, your teachers, and the good times you had at Cato-Meridian during the year of 1986. Enjoy yourself!

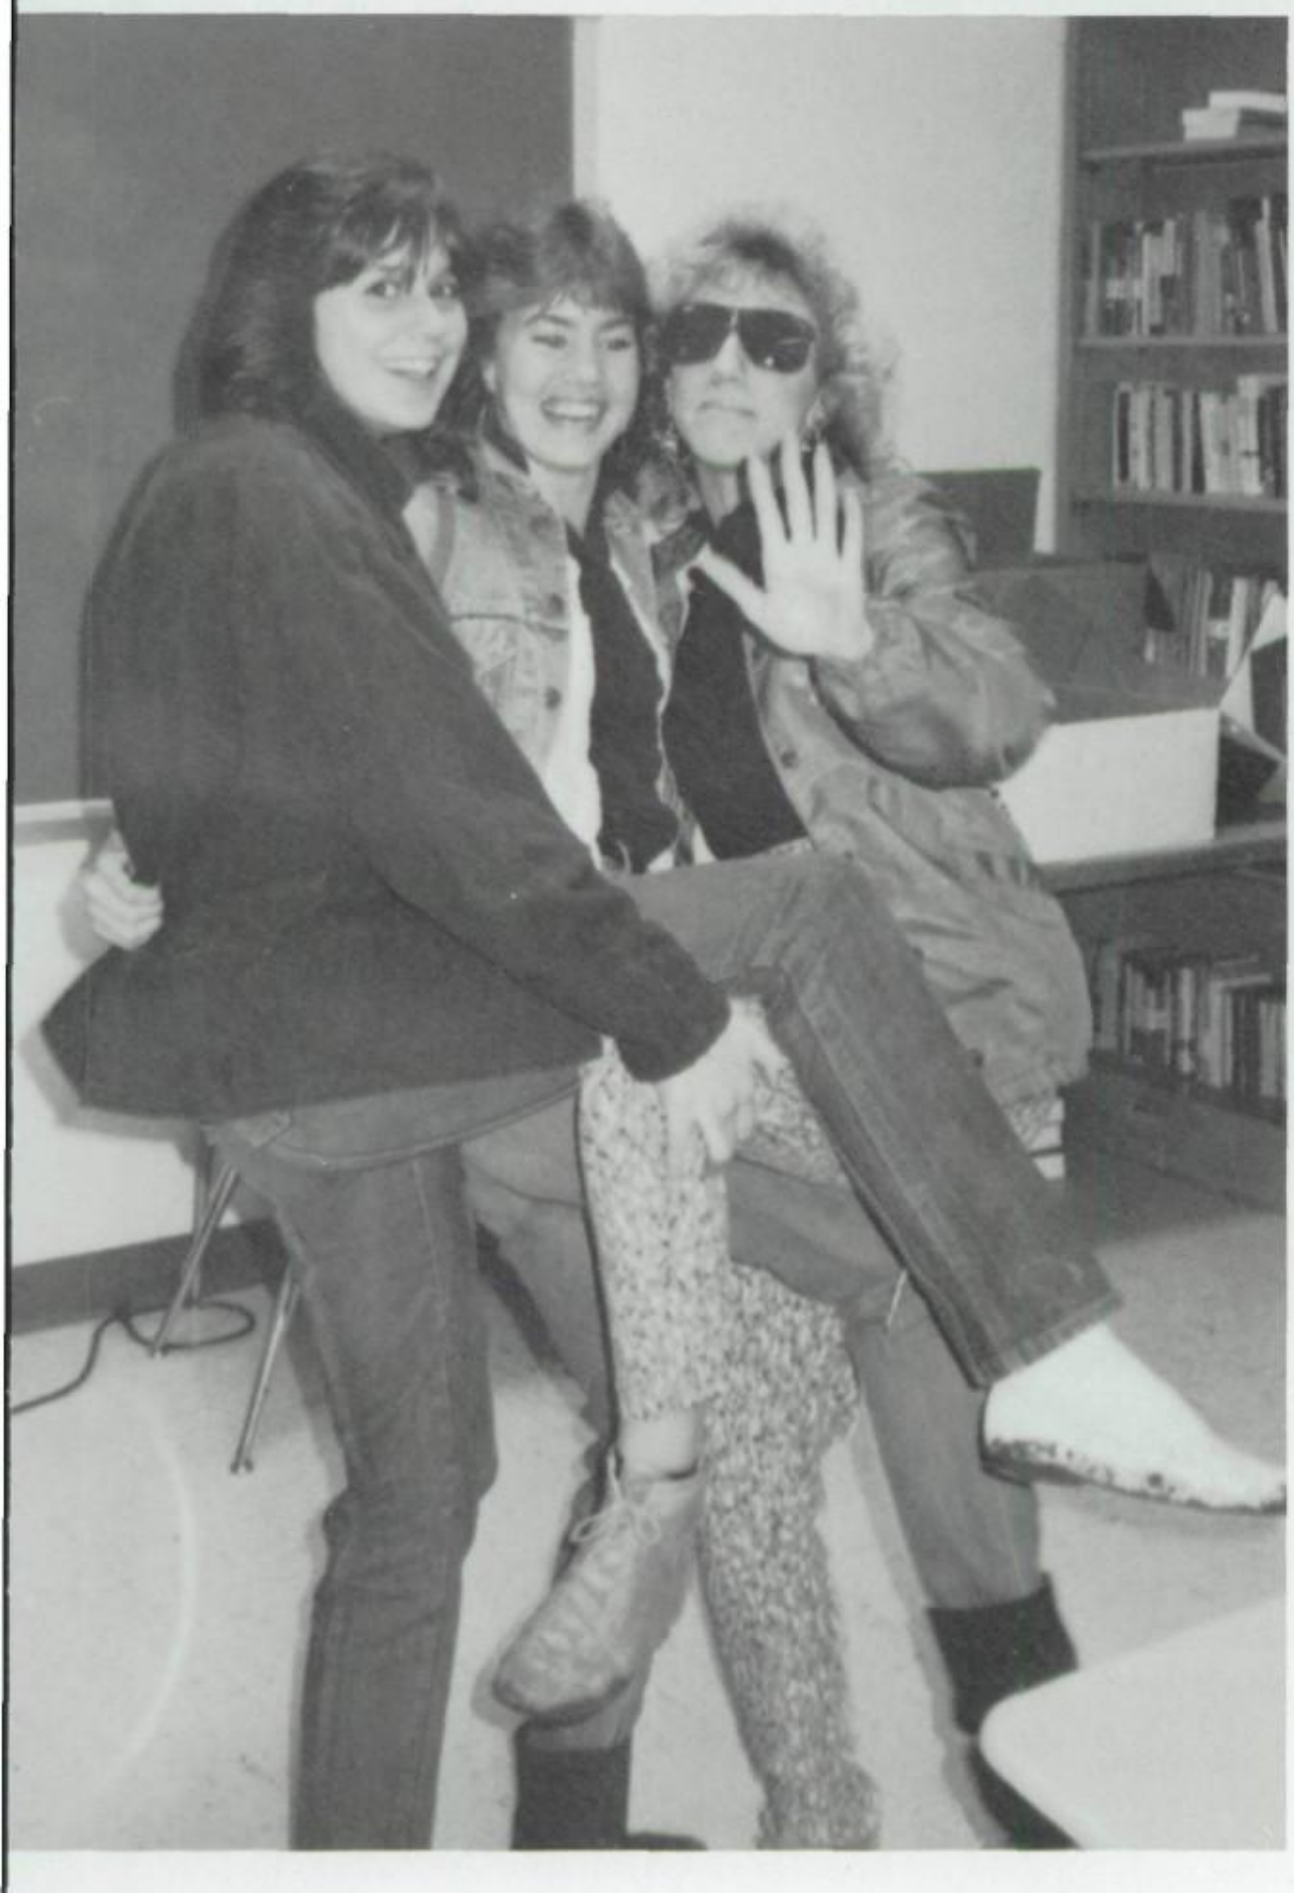
This is Carolyn before her tongue amputation.

"That may be the way you do it in Finland Marjukka, but here we . . . "

"You mean it isn't a course in learning how to be social?"

"I think these are a little big!"

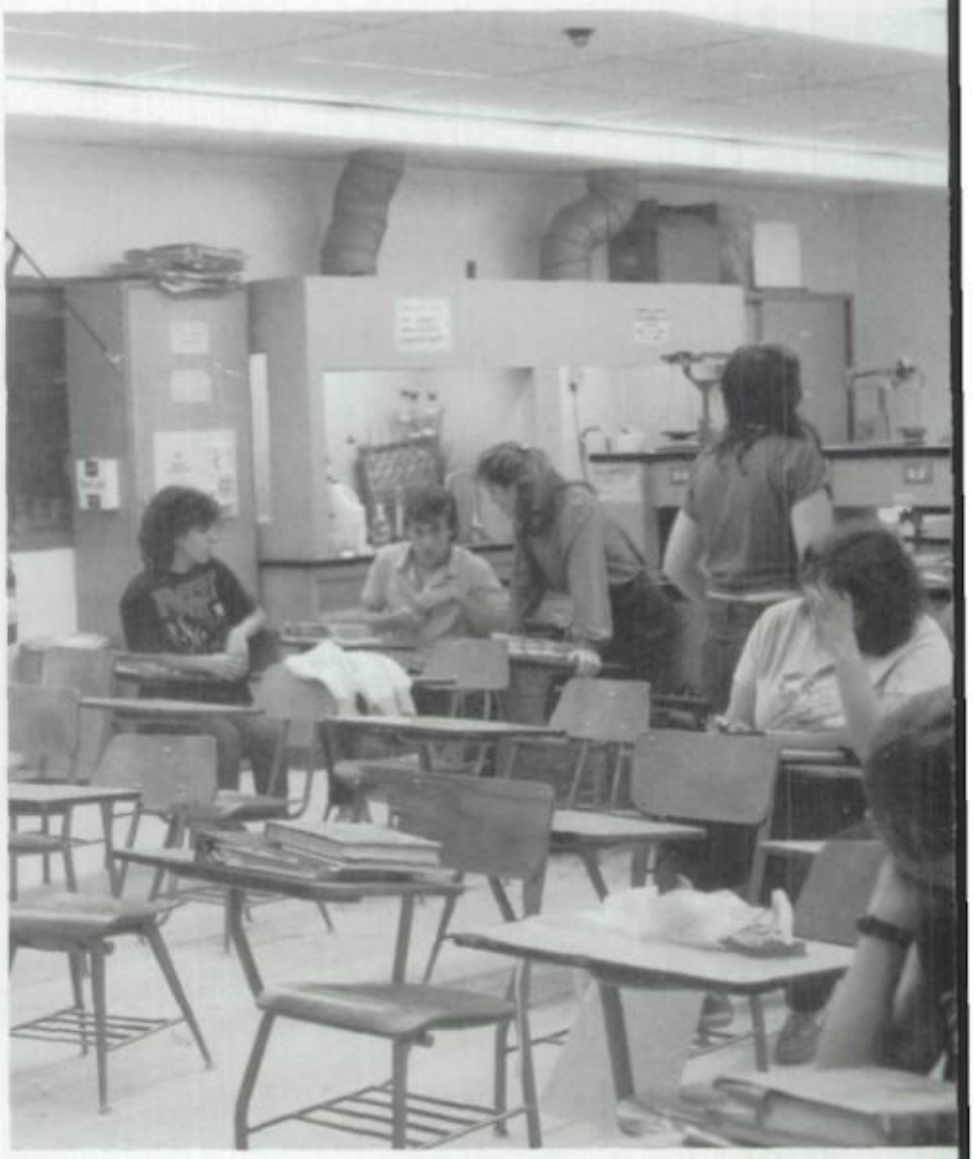
"Cheerleading tryouts?"



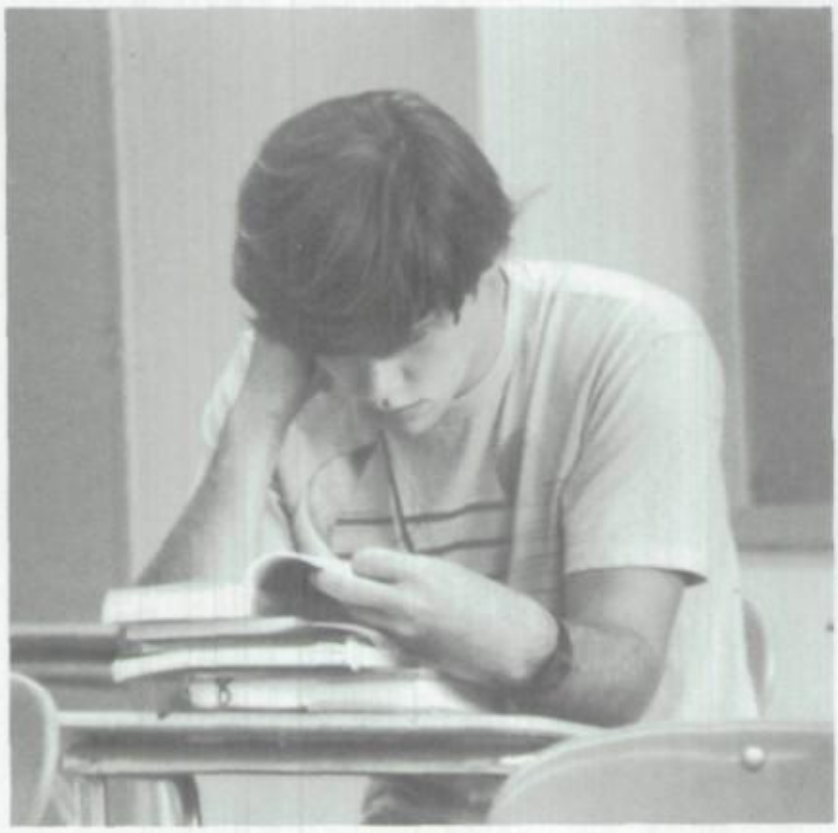
Shannon and friend.

Tammy, Colene, and Danielle demonstrate the moves that won them the Cato-Meridian "How Many Students Can Fit Into Mr. Riedl's Office" contest.

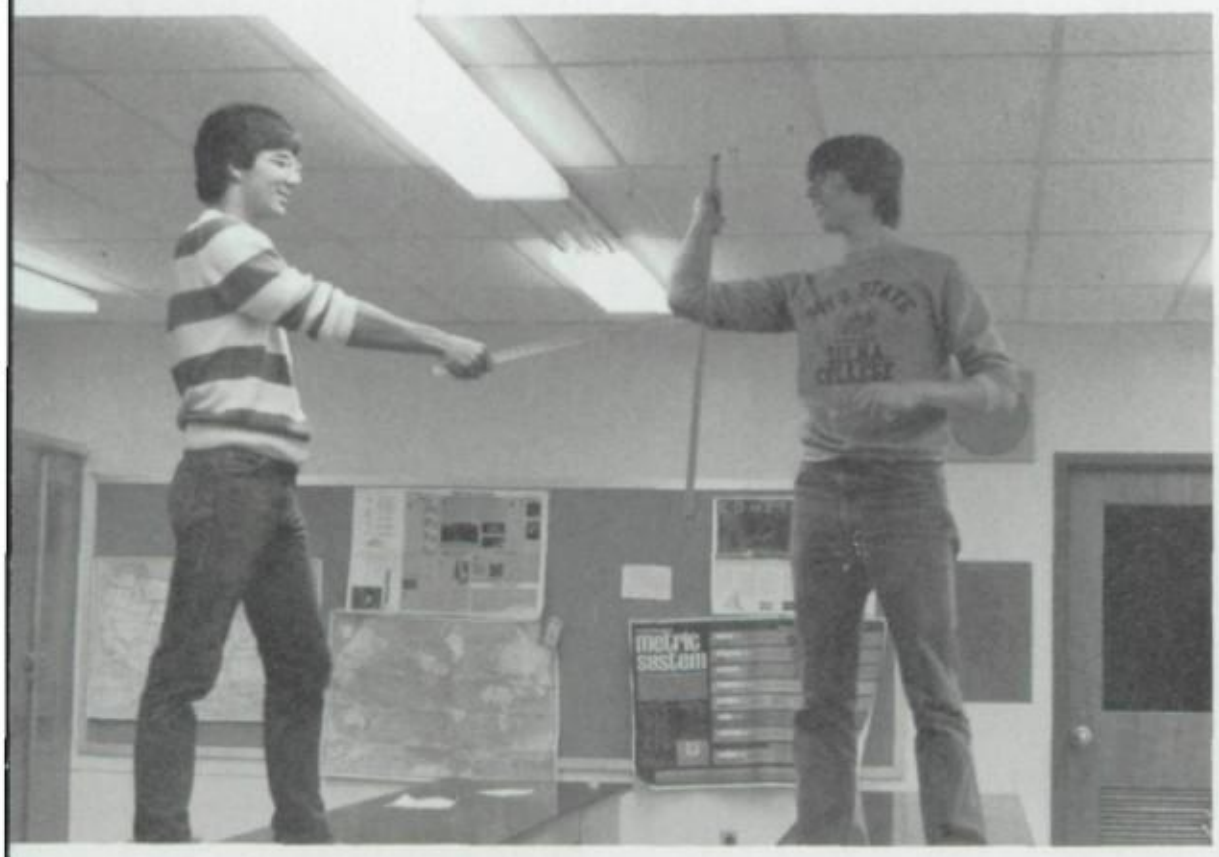
"Make up your mind Tim. Who's going to be your lab partner, Heather or me?"



It's hard to be a three-year grad.



Does anybody know which Cabral twin this is?



"On guard, Jay!"

"Help me, I'm lost."

"Connie, is that really loaded?"

"Hey guys, what is this?"

Only a light crowd in the hall today.

"Gee Mrs. Rogers, I really can't close my mouth!"

"Which bus is mine buddy?"

Stephanie comes out of the twilight zone.

"I guess your muscles are bigger, Seth."

"Mr. Dygert, are they going to pay us for advertising?"

Twelfth Grade

It's almost here. Graduation Day! We're excited about finally getting out, but we're scared of what the future holds. We're sad too, because as we graduate and go our separate ways, we'll be leaving our friends of the past 13 years. Many teachers have accused our class of enjoying socializing too much, but it's only because we've become such good friends over the years. We have grown together, shared together, and laughed together for so long now that we don't know what we're going to do without each other. Come to think of it — we're really going to miss Cato-Meridian High School!

Eleventh Grade

Now we will finally get the respect we deserve. In a few short weeks we will no longer be underclassmen, but seniors. We've been anticipating next year for a long time and we're going to savor every minute of it. Our senior portraits, applying to colleges, ordering invitations, our prom, and finally, graduation. We hope the year doesn't go by too fast!"

Tenth Grade

With the M & M's and Easter sale behind us, it's time for bigger and better things. CLASS RINGS!!

As Sophomores, we are beginning to feel like upperclassmen. Many of us have made varsity teams for the first time; some of us were taken to the prom and we have only one more year until we will be seniors!

Ninth Grade

We're freshman now! Finally we can throw off the stigma of being new in the high school. And we have a whole group of students younger than us to pick on. We're also beginning to feel a little cocky now that we know most of the teachers. Our money raising projects no longer have an immediate goal like our Boston Trip. Now we begin saving for our future. We haven't been given all the respect we want, but we feel more mature and more a part of the high school.

Eighth Grade

We finally have arrived at the high school. It's hard though. Everyone is bigger than us. Many times we get the feeling that we're not appreciated. Upperclassmen complain about us carrying too many books, and our gym bags.

Our goal was Boston. For many of us it was our first time visiting a large city. What fun we had. We know that we bothered everyone with our sales, but believe us, it was worth it!

Now we are looking forward to being ninth graders. Mainly because we are tired of being picked on so much as the youngest students here.

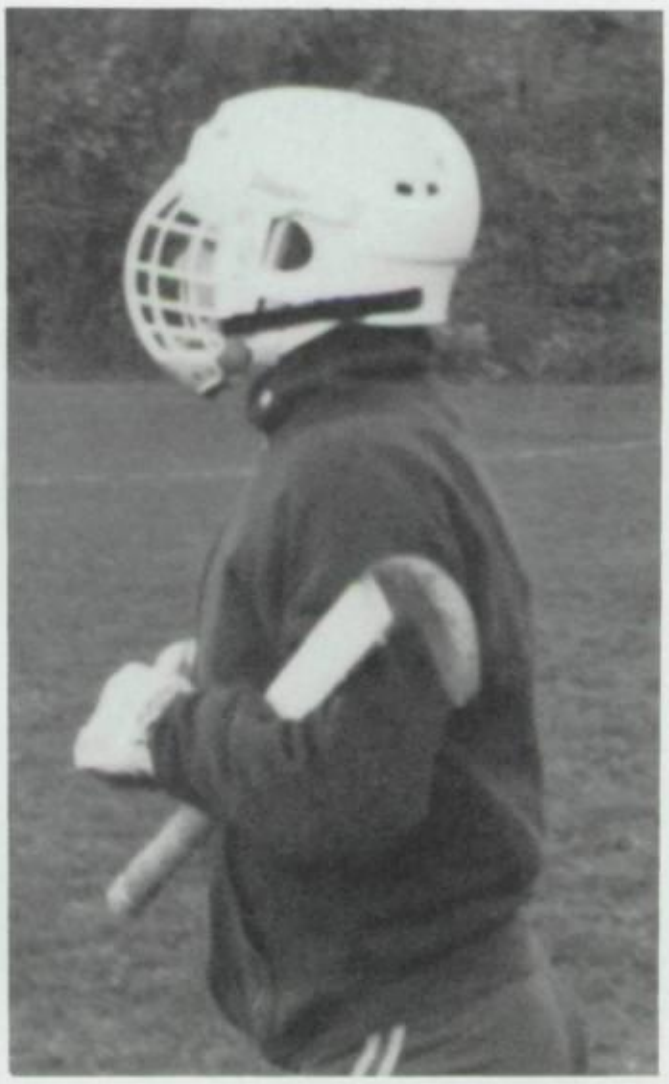
SPORTS



Varsity improves as team

Although the won-loss record of the Varsity Football team doesn't reveal a banner season, there were many bright spots and it could be called a successful campaign. Coach Jim Cancro said the biggest thrill of the season was coming back from an 8-0 deficit and defeating Bishop Cunningham.

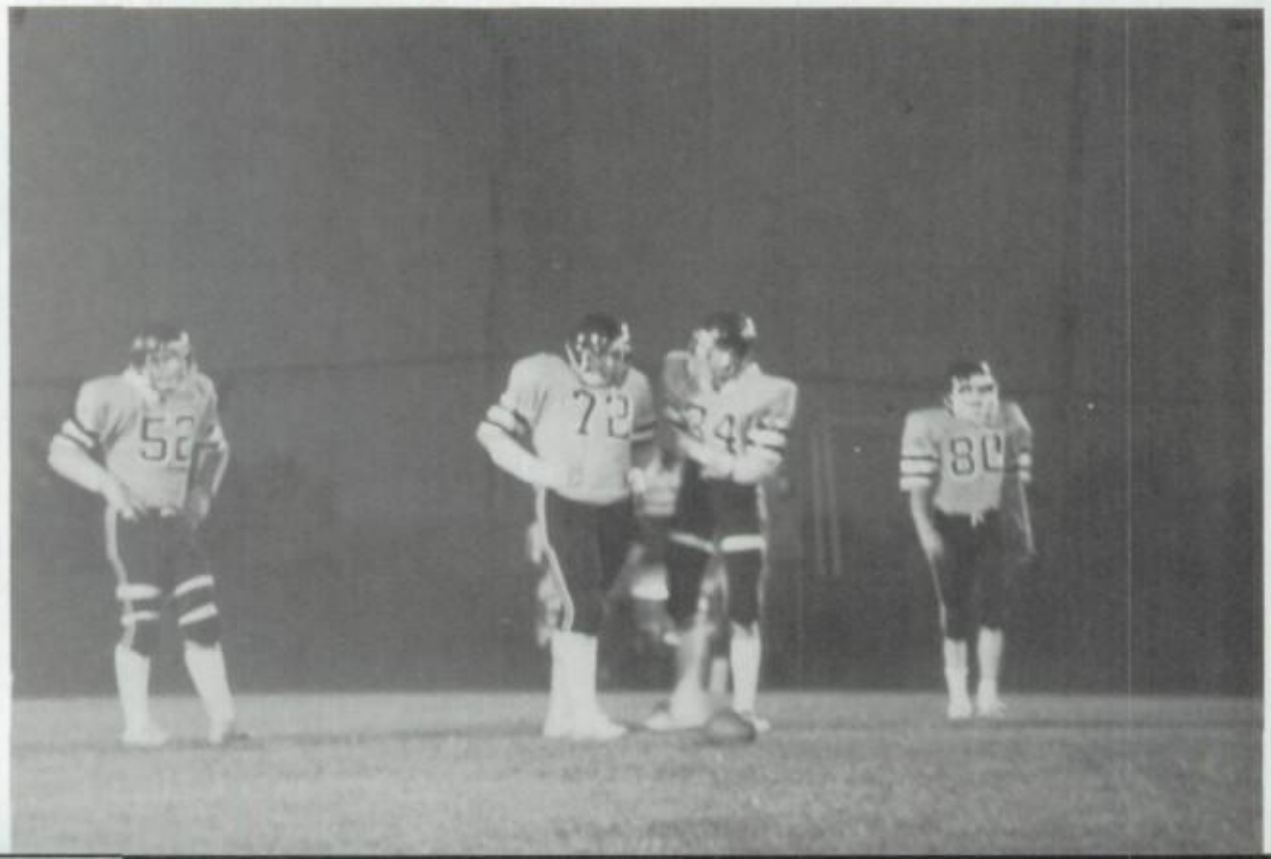
The captains of the squad were Darin Fredenburg and Mark Warner and as seniors they stood out on both defense and offense. Another senior who was a valuable asset to the squad was Bob Pascal. One bright spot for the future was the play of junior runningbacks Todd Pollock and Scott Quick and also sophomore center Mike Tyler.

One player receiving league recognition was Warner, whose solid play at tackle earned him a place on the 2nd Team All League squad.

Coach Cancro summed up the season by saying, "this year's football team was very competitive. These young athletes practiced hard and became dedicated to the game of football. They never gave up and played their hearts out. In my opinion this is the real victory in sports."

"How's this gonna help me tackle runningbacks coach?"

"You remember the play! It's the one we've been practicing all week!"



"No, no Wayne, just tackle the guy with the ball. You don't have to tackle the entire front line!"

"Practice makes perfect. Yeh, right!"

Mod football hopeful of future

The Modified Football team was led by first year coach Jeff Jordan and his assistant, Mark Barnes. Although they did not have a winning season, the team worked hard, and they look solid for the future.

The young devils were led by captains Mark Quick, Rod Pollack, most valuable player Andy Hunsinger, and most improved players John Mennson and Rick Steele.

Hockey has solid future

A good blend of seniors and juniors led the Varsity Field Hockey team this season. Although the female Devils didn't have a winning season, several girls received league recognition and with seven returning players, things look solid for the future.

Co-Captains Rhonda Calkins and Angie Davenport made First and Second All League teams respectively, while LaRae Benedict received an honorable mention. Junior JoAnne Kalar and Davenport were the leading scorers. Kalar, Carrie Towne, Michelle Charbonneau, Jodi Mapley, Becky Lunkenheimer, Jennifer Warner, and Heather Hudson are all returning juniors who saw a lot of action in 1985.

Jodi moves the ball up the field.

Keeping one's eyes on the ball is the key to good field hockey play. LaRae, Heather, Annette, and Carrie know that well . . . what to do with it is another story.

Offense improves on J.V.

The Junior Varsity Field Hockey team had a very successful season in 1985. The previous year's squad didn't score a goal in league play while this year's Blue Devils scored enough to win three and tie four.

A great deal of effort and enthusiasm was put forth in practice and it showed in the games. Coach Carole Troisi said that the biggest thrill was beating Auburn which defeated Cato last season, and which had a former Cato J.V. player on its squad.

Some of the standout players were Tammy Davenport at goalie, Becca Janes, Renee Phelps, and Amanda Serafini at halfback, and Lura Lunkenheimer and Tammy Hawker at fullback. Receiving "Player of the Week" honors were Tammy Hawker, Nichole Phelps, Anissa Benedict, and Laurie Campbell.

The season's success is also proven by the fact that only two opposing schools were of comparable size to C-M; the other opponents all represented much larger schools.

"I never realized how tough it is to hit a little white ball!"

"Oh no, Anissa, he came to watch me play and I can't get this mouthpiece to fit."

"All right, I'll move. You don't have to get physical about it."

"Well, which way should we go?"

X-Country shows dedication

Rebuilding would be the description of this year's Varsity Cross Country team. This was the first year for most of the runners, many of whom had to be lured onto the team by first year coach Bill Taddeo.

Nevertheless, there were many bright spots on the Devils with the constant improvement of the young runners being the highlight. Taddeo commented that " . . . it was a pleasure seeing the runners improve because of hard work."

The most valuable player awards went to Pat Grady and Gail Southard while Dan Pollay and Mary Rugg received the coach's award for their hard work and dedication.

Taddeo used his love for running and his enthusiasm to encourage the young runners to do their best. The team's biggest thrill? "Ryan showing up for a Saturday practice," said Taddeo.

Pat Grady puts on a burst of speed as he approaches the finish line.

Mod runners show promise

The Modified Cross Country teams show a great deal of promise for the future. The young runners were determined to do their best at every practice and in every race. Seeing Coach Bill Taddeo on the sidelines with an encouraging word often helped the runners find extra energy within themselves.

The squad, which will provide a good supply of varsity runners for years to come, was led by most valuable players Clark Jillson and Christy Day.

Varsity Basketball Doubles Last Year's Win Total

Under the direction of Coach Jay Warner, the Varsity Boys' Basketball Team doubled its win total over the 1984-85 season. Led by senior Co-Captains John Krakuszeski and Darin Fredenburg and 6'6" center Mark Warner, the Blue Devils climbed out of the league basement for the first time in two years.

Warner and Krakuszeski both averaged double figures in scoring to lead the team, while Warner provided strong rebounding and Fredenburg supplied the ball handling. Other seniors who saw a lot of playing time were forward Seth Voorhees and guard Tim Hunke.

Among the returning hopes are sophomores Scott Jolly and Stan Jewell who both saw a goodly amount of playing time this past season. One problem Cato faces in the future however, is a severe lack of height. With the graduation of Warner, no other player in the program is over 6'2" tall.

J.V. Basketball Shows Promise

Under rookie coach, Joe Chamberlain, the Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball Team had its best season in recent years. The Junior Blue Devils mustered five wins by the midway point in the season, while several heartbreaking losses kept them from an even better record.

Co-Captain Trevor Cady was the general on the floor, while fellow co-captain Ray Smithler provided a constant scoring threat. Mike Krieger supplied rebounding strength, with Lance Cancro providing help on both ends of the court. Doug Appleman symbolized the team spirit with his hustle. While many of these players will graduate to next year's varsity team, freshmen Mike Weller, Andy Hunsinger, Paul McGetrick and Doug Taber show promise for next season's J.V. squad.

Mod Boys B-ball Gains Experience

Under the leadership of first-year coach Bill Taddeo, the seventh and eighth grade hoopsters showed improvement throughout the season. Although their record doesn't show it, the boys gained valuable experience this year and their basic skills improved tremendously.

The young Blue Devils were led by Co-Captains Alex Krakuszeski and Peter Hoyt, starting backcourt mates, and the inside height of Brian Leyburn and Jim Bye. Krakuszeski shows promise as a ball handler and scorer while Bye and Leyburn, if they continue to grow, should give valuable height to the future basketball program at Cato-Meridian.

Varsity Places Three Wrestlers in Sectionals

Ryan DenHaese, Brock Trapp, and Mark Cartwright produced some strong wrestling at the season's end to earn berths in the Section Three Tournament. DenHaese, only a freshman, led a strong (6-2 in league) squad by earning a 1st in the 98lb weight class at the Cazanovia Tourney, finishing 1st in the league and capturing the Class D Sectional Crown in his weight class.

Bob Phelps and Trapp also placed in several tournaments to lead a powerful Blue Devil Team which will be losing only one wrestler to graduation.

The varsity team as a whole set a team and tied a national record by beating Moravia 72-0 this season. This represents the highest possible score in wrestling.

JV's Strong

The Junior Varsity Wrestling Team provided strong support for the varsity squad this year. Although they finished with a record of 5-10-1, that is somewhat misleading. Many losses came at the hands of some very small squads, forcing the JV's to wrestle some varsity wrestlers. In matches where they faced a full JV squad the junior devils' record was much better.

Tension mounts as they await the whistle.

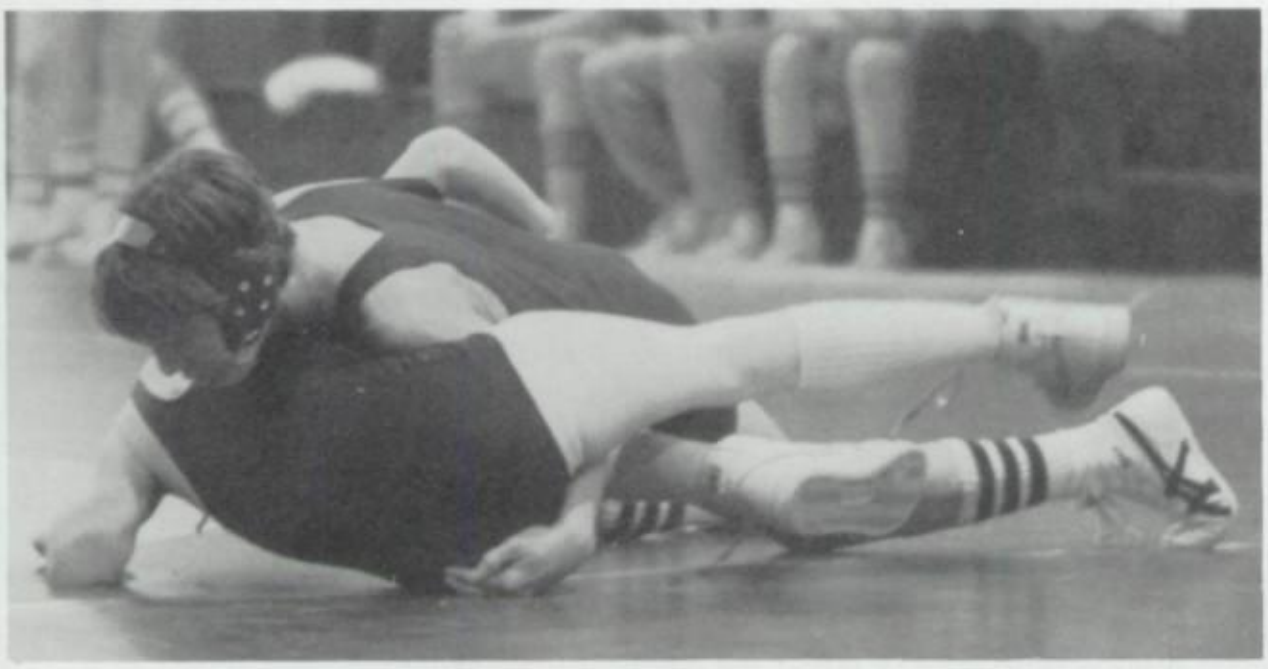
Modified Grapplers Look Tough



Under the direction of first year coach, Mr. Wagoner, the modified wrestling team had a strong season. Finishing with seven wins and seven losses, against some very tough teams, means wrestling fans at Cato have much to look forward to in future years.

Girls' Varsity Basketball Shows Improvement

Under the direction of Coach Cancro, the Girls' Varsity Basketball Team showed continued development throughout the year. While the squad enjoyed playing basketball, they also showed improvement in their skills over the course of the season.

Led by senior Co-Captains Angie Davenport and Kim Halstead, the Female Devils played with determination. Although their offense was hindered by an early season illness to senior ball handler Patty Tyler, they continued to play tenacious defense.

Things are looking to improve even more next year, as juniors Shaun McMahon, Jodi Mapley and Wendy Doty, who saw a lot of playing time, will be joined by many sophomores coming from a solid Junior Varsity squad.

JV Girls Look Good

The Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team showed some real talent this past season and should supply next year's varsity squad with some strong replacements for graduating seniors.

Junior forward-center Jennifer Warner, and sophomore center Mary Rugg show promise in the middle and should aid the varsity program with some added height. Also showing improvement and promise were sophomores Tammy Davenport, whose shooting touch will bring a scoring threat to the varsity, hustlers Michele Tanner and Pam Doty and ballhandler Sandy Derby.

The J.V. squad was under the direction of first-year Coach Jack Murphy.

Modified Basketball Growing in Support

Girls' basketball is an improving sport at Cato-Meridian and is growing tremendously in interest. As of this printing, and its season just beginning, the girls' modified team was looking forward to a successful season.

J.V. Volleyball Strong

The Junior Varsity Girls' Volleyball team continues to be a strong team at Cato-Meridian. Under the direction of first year Coach Ciotoli, the J.V. program continues to be a solid training ground for the varsity team.

Sophomores Kris Vanderveer, Lisa Ellis, Lura Lunkenheimer, Jennifer Hyatt, Jackie Teter, and Piper Jones could supply help to the varsity team next season. Their graduation shouldn't hurt the Junior Varsity squad any however, with solid freshmen players Jennifer Prairie, Amanda Serafini, Anissa Benedict, Becca Janes, Tammy Hawker, Erin Killough and Renee Phelps returning. With these girls supporting the program, volleyball should continue to be a popular and dominating sport at Cato-Meridian for years to come.

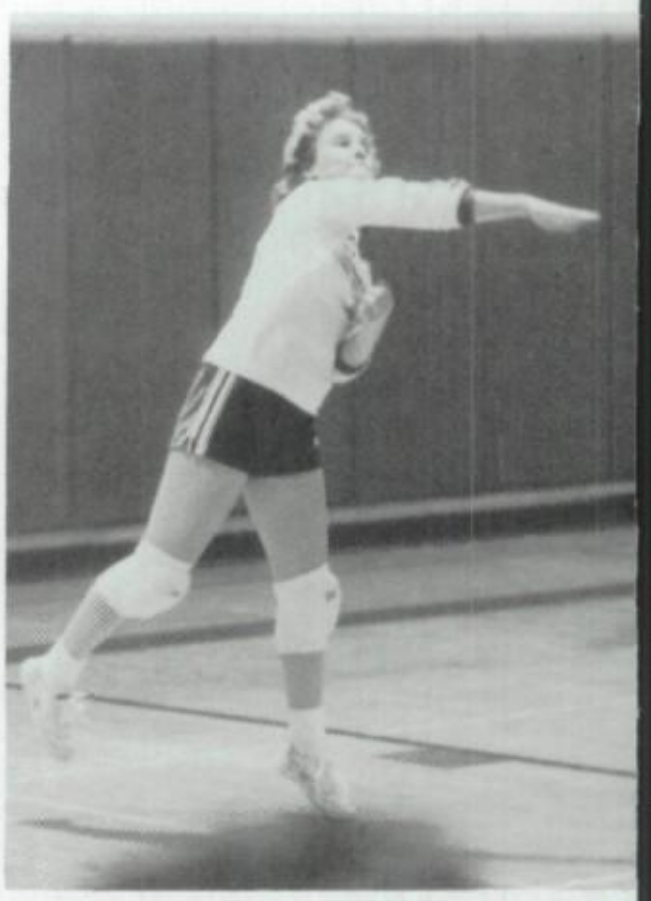
V-Ball Has Banner Season

Varsity Volleyball continues to be consistently the most competitive sport at Cato-Meridian. Under the guidance of Coach Troisi, the Female Devils, when this was printed, sat on top of their division with a 15-2 record and were headed for the sectionals as one of the top seeded teams.

Led by senior co-captains Rhonda Calkins and Deanna Cox, the squad plays like a well oiled machine on the court. Going 12 players deep, the squad is gifted from top to bottom. Spikers Calkins and Killough tormented opponents all season with their blistering smashes, set up by junior setters Heather Hudson and Mary McKinnon.

Jodi Wayman, Gail Southard, Hudson, and Becky Lunkenheimer should provide a solid nucleus for another championship season next year.



Calkins shows her spiking ability.

ORGANIZATIONS

French Club

Under the direction of Mr. Familo, the French Club is one of the most active organizations at Cato-Meridian. Fund raising projects and preparations are made all year for the annual trip to Quebec in May.

Giving students a chance to see a different culture in a foreign country is a tremendous learning experience that enhances their classroom work.

Cultural Exchange Club

The Cultural Exchange Club was newly formed in 1985. Under the direction of Mrs. Trinkley-Wolfson, its members hope to gain insight into other cultures, both those within the United States and those in other countries.

The club meets every two weeks where they write to foreign pen pals and discuss and plan ways to present other cultures to Cato-Meridian students. One project this past year was a Christmas tree displaying ornaments made to represent different countries.

Music Department

The music department at Cato-Meridian has greatly expanded and improved this year. With a new marching band and a chorus which tripled in size over last year, new interest in music has been the result.

Under the direction of Mrs. Barone, our marching band became a reality. Providing halftime entertainment and getting the crowd enthused made the band a welcome addition at our home football games this year. Other activities of the band included marching in parades and attending a band competition at the Carrier Dome.

Besides playing at school concerts, our concert band provides a learning experience for the young instrumentalists. Many of them compete in county wide solo competition, while others get to perform with All-County groups.

The chorus provides much the same opportunities as the bands, but for vocalists. With 30 voices, a more complete sound was enjoyed this year, however, it is still hoped that more males will join chorus in the future.

To the bands and chorus, "we like what we're hearing!"

"But Mrs. Barone, my arms won't reach far enough to play that note!"

Outdoor Club

The outdoor club, under the leadership of Mr. Nowak, is a popular organization at Cato-Meridian. Only in its second year of existence, the outdoor club seeks to help its members gain knowledge of, and enjoy the great outdoors.

In the past, the club has been active by going across country skiing, canoeing, and last year they went on an Adirondack camping trip.

Yorker Club

The motto of the Yorker Club is "History is Fun." The Jakway Yorkers study both local and state history. One of their recent projects was to work for the Town of Ira removing sod from around the tombstones in historical Setters' Cemetery on route 370.

Student Council

The Student Council oversees many activities throughout the school year. This past year, a change was made in the election process in order to make the council more like an actual governing body. Under the direction of advisor Miss Donnelly, the council meets for one period every other week.

Row 1, Nathan Shaw, Sindy Pipgrass, Nichole Phelps, Paula Miller, Pam Brant; Row 2, Pam Doty, Rose Van Norstrand, Becky Lunkenheimer (Treas.), Karin Killough (Pres.), Shannon LaLone (V. Honor Society

The Cato-Meridian chapter of the National Honor Society is a thriving organization made up of academic minded students. The Honor Society is a service minded organization participating in such projects as tutoring, charity fund raising and sponsoring an annual Easter Egg Hunt. The officers are John Krakuszeski, President, Vice President, Sindy Pipgrass, and Jay Clary, Treasurer.

Yearbook Staff

This year's yearbook staff started with enthusiasm, determined to make the 1986 Harvester the best one ever. A change of publishers and an expansion in the size of the book helped give a needed push.

Mr. Graf, the advisor, received a lot of support from some of the staff, especially from the kids who worked third period, Deanna, the other editors and Kimi Fellows' nimble typing fingers.

Also, Mr. Celano, our Herff-Jones representative, gave us tremendous assistance. Mr. Celano's providing a September Workshop, numerous trips to Cato throughout the year and even cookies gave us the encouragement needed to produce this year's Harvester.

Shannon tries her hand at layout.

Putting names to mug shots was a tedious task.

Kimi's favorite typewriter became Mr. Graf's ancient Smith-Corona.

Ski Club

Getting together to ski is the primary function of the Cato-Meridian Ski Club. On seven Tuesday afternoons the kids bundled up and trooped off to Toggenburg for several hours of swooshing down the slopes.

Under the direction of Mr. Wood and Miss Cappalano, the ski club culminated its season with a pizza party.

Row 1, Keith Ford, Tina Peloke, Bob Walker, Miss Cappalano, David Waite, Mr. Wood, Andy Komrowski, Brett Allen; Row 2, Jamie Castiglia, Matt Kovach

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club is made up of male athletes who have earned their varsity letters. It is a service oriented club performing tasks in association with athletics.

One very popular Varsity Club sponsored event is the Donkey Basketball game. Under the adviserships of Mr. Allen, the club is lead by President, John Krakuszeski, Secretary-Treasurer, Jay Clary and Sgt. at Arms, Mark Warner.

Newspaper

With the help of Mrs. Hangen, a school newspaper was started this year. The students involved in putting out the four issues were members of Mrs. Hangen's Creative Writing Class.

School Store

Another new addition at Cato-Meridian is the school store. Under the direction of Mrs. McCall, the store is open before and after school, offering many school related items for sale.

Foreign Exchange Students

Our exchange student from Finland is Marjukka Ssario. Because she always had a cheery smile on her face and was blessed with a delightful personality, Marjukka quickly won the hearts of the students and staff at Cato.

Marjukka had some adjustments to make in coming to Cato since she is from Turku, the third largest city in Finland. She quickly got used to our food, developing a fondness for peanut butter, hamburgers and chocolate chip cookies. The relaxed attitudes of Americans and their music are also things Marjukka likes about the United States.

Marjukka indicated that she had problems with our three minutes between classes since in Finland they have 15 minutes between classes and they must go outside during that time. She also has problems with some Americans' attitudes about foreign countries, and their idea that America is the best when they have never traveled to other countries. Marjukka feels that people need to travel when given the opportunity, before they make such judgements.

Finally, Marjukka says she will miss her friends, her host families, and she will always remember her year at Cato-Meridian. All the cows too. "There's more cows than people!" Marjukka said.

Our second exchange student, David Gonzalez, is from El Salvador. Although Dave was only at Cato until February, we will always remember his huge smile.

Pre-Prom Jitters

By S. Pipgrass

Oh, Wow! Today is the day and it's already 10:00. If I can make it through the next eight hours without falling apart I'll be in great shape. There's so much to do in only eight hours.

O.k., deep breaths now! Ready, set, GO! First the basics — the shower, the manicure, pedicure, — guys just don't realize how much work goes into their date for one night!

"What? Mom, I don't have time to eat! I'm really not hungry anyway. Oh, o.k. Toast if you'll just stop nagging!"

What's next? Where's my list? Let's see — time to get dressed — but only the underthings. Oh, No, a run! Where's the nailpolish? I knew I should have bought an extra pair! Why me! It's a good thing it's a long dress!

I better get going on my makeup. It's going to take hours just to look half way decent. It has to be just so — oops! It's hard to tell I've been putting this stuff on for years.

4:00! Great! I only have two hours to do my hair! Where is Vidal Sassoon when you really need him? A little more mousse a little more curl, hairspray. We'll tease that just a little more. There! Now all I have to worry about is my date touching it or a sudden downpour.

What's that? Oh, no he's early! Where's my dress? "Mom, keep him busy!" Oh, thank God it's only the relatives with their carload of cameras. I'll be seeing spots all night!

Whew, all ready. Just on time too. I hate introductions. Please, don't stick me with the pin! More pictures — one of the corsage, one of going out the door.

We made it to the car! We're almost free. One problem — how do you fasten your seat belt without wrinkling your dress?

Rhonda wins the leg competition.

Rose Van Norstrand and John Krakuszeski crown Queen Sheila Reed and King David Salmonsen.

The court: Sindy Pipgrass, Darin Fredenburg, Theresa Williams, Jon Mettler, Josh Warner, Fern Pittroff, Carl Ellis, John Krakuszeski, King David Salmonsen, Queen Sheila Reed, Rose Van Norstrand, Cari LaLone, John Woods, Amy LaLone, Patty Tyler, Harold Van Horn.

"I knew we should have taken lessons, Dave!"

"I.S.S. isn't supposed to be this fun!"

"You got a problem with my taping pictures to my locker buddy?"

"Get out John; that can't be the answer!"

The faithful wrestling cheering section.

"We hope that through these slam-dunk exercises, Seth will one day be able to solo dunk."

"Is Harold really father material?"
